

Community Advisory Group Representation

The I3C Project Community Advisory Group (CAG) is a key component in the community engagement process for the I3C Project. The I3C CAG includes community leaders, including elected officials, representatives from local municipalities, homeowners, business owners, and local special interest groups. This group ensures that project solutions balance community, technical and long-range planning needs. The CAG will provide input at key project milestones throughout the Phase I planning process. I3C CAG members represent:
